Directed by Netali Baron (netalie.b@gmail.com)
Cast: Gil Naveh, Noga Meltzer, Adili Liberman, Samira Sariya, Eli 7 Alexander, Tal Kalai
One night at the Shushan, the gay bar in Jerusalem. The gay pride parade which had been planned for the following day was cancelled due to violent protests by religious movements. Against the decadent background of drag performances, a tiny and almost impossible love story is rekindled.

TLVFest Israeli shorts 2007:

Her Own Way

Directed by Limor Ziv (limziv@gmail.com)
Where does the fear to be one's self come from? Which feelings of "wrong" or "right" take charge of our deepest authentic feelings? Mika feels that binds around her are getting tighter and tighter, preventing her from being true about her feelings for another girl. One entire weekend, just them on their own, Mika knows there's no escape from facing it. At the end of this weekend nothing will remain the same. This film based on the director personal experience 9 years ago.

Father's Pride

Directed by Uval Bagno (ybagno@gmail.com)
A soldier meets the love of his life while serving in the military but is afraid to come out of the closet to his father, in light of the death of his admired and much loved older brother.

Muse

Directed by Ofer Rudolphson (oferrudolphson@hotmail.com)
Two young women go on a romantic, somewhat spacey, date at a Tel Aviv Bar.

Tryout
